ABOUT SOLARPRAXIS AG

SOLARPRAXIS AG is one of the leading knowledge service providers in the renewable energy sector. The Berlin-based company has been providing clients with expertise and professional services in the fields of engineering, conference organisation and publishing for over 12 years.

The engineering division works to generate up-to-date knowledge, which is then prepared for and presented to manufacturers, wholesalers, planners and trade professionals in a targeted, project-specific manner.

The second component of the company's service portfolio is its publishing department which, in addition to B2B magazines photovoltaik and pv magazine, produces high quality industry reports.

Additionally, Solarpraxis is one of the leading conference organisers for renewable energies. Since 1998, the company has been organising high-quality industry events. The Forum Solarpraxis is recognised worldwide. The oldest and most well-known Solarpraxis conference celebrated its 10th anniversary in 2009 with more than 700 attendees. Numerous further events, for example others in Spain, Italy and the USA continue this success story.
